JURORS CALLED TO INVESTIGATE BABB SHOOTING

Session Is Scheduled For Thursday At 9 A. M. in County Court

INQUEST COMPLETED

Verdict of Coroner Bowers Not Yet Disclosed

The Pickaway county grand jury has been ordered to report Thursday at 9 a. m. to investigate the shooting of Weldon J. Babb, 32, Perry township farmer, last Tuesday.

It will consider also a statutory charge against Walter Hart, 62, of E. Logan street.

Coroner C. E. Bowers conducted an inquest Monday in the shooting of Babb, but has not announced a verdict. John L. Teets, 26, son of tenants on the Babb farm, is being held in the county jail for investigation. No charge has been filed against him.

Hart was bound to the grand jury in Mayor W. J. Graham's court on a charge filed by Allen Trego, Walnut street. Trego told officers Hart enticed his seven-year-old daughter into a barn by offering her money. Trego learned about the act and gave Hart a severe beating, then filed charge. Police Chief William McCrady filed an assault and battery charge against Trego as a result of Hart's injuries.

WAGE AND HOUR STANDARD VOTE MAY BE DELAYED

Expected Wrangling Over Specific Levels May Hinder Action

SAM RAYBURN HOPEFUL

Jackson, Perkins, Green, Lewis May Be Called

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—Congressional leaders predicted today that protracted wrangling over establishment of precise minimum wage and maximum hour standards may delay floor consideration of the President's labor program until July 1.

Representatives of business and industry, labor leaders and government officials are expected to swamp the house labor committee with demands to be heard fully at hearings on the measure which begin next week.

Rep. William P. Connery, Jr., D., Mass., house sponsor of the wage and hour legislation introduced in response to Mr. Roosevelt's special message yesterday, said he hoped house committee hearings on the measure could be limited to ten days, but other leaders believed a longer period would be necessary.

Details to be Drafted
The measures, introduced in the house by Connery and in the senate by Hugo Black, D., Ala., chairman of the senate labor committee, do not set up specific levels at which wages and hours shall be fixed. These will be worked out by the committees, and are expected to result in lengthy controversy.

Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, D., Tex., former chairman of the house interstate commerce committee, asserted that the proposal was so "far-reaching" that hearings might continue many weeks.

"Of course, Chairman Connery may be able to get the hearings (Continued on Page Eight)

Social, Economic Program Rushed

Tennessee Valley Rights to Transmit Power and Public Utilities Holding Act May Be Decided in Tribunal's Next Term

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—President Roosevelt tallied a 14-to-0 supreme court score in favor of New Deal legislation today and pushed on toward constitutional tests in an expansion of his social and economic program.

Government litigation is ended for this court term. But headed for high judicial review next session are:

1. Further determination of Tennessee Valley Authority rights in transmission and sale of electrical power.

2. Test of the registration provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company act.

3. Determination of Public Works Administration authority to make loans and grants for municipal ownership of electrical power system.

Now in Lower Courts
These cases already are in lower court judicial process. And there unquestionably will be at least one great legal contest beyond all these. It will determine constitutionality of the wage and hours legislation proposed yesterday by Mr. Roosevelt in a message to congress at the moment the court was approving the New Deal Social Security program.

Mr. Roosevelt sent his wage and hours plan to congress with a direct challenge to the courts to deny its validity. He pronounced it to be within the common sense framework of the Constitution and approved by the electorate.

The justices will recess for the summer one week from today. Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter's retirement will become effective. Then it will remain for Mr. Roosevelt and congress to determine what shall become of the New Deal bill to add five new blood jurists to the high bench.

The capital's consensus is that chances of enacting the judiciary reorganization bill were further dimmed by yesterday's decisions in which the court:

1. Validated federal unemployment insurance legislation.
2. Validated federal old age pension legislation.
3. Validated Alabama's unemployment insurance act.

Vast revenue and millions of individuals were affected by the court's opinions.

The treasury estimated Social Security tax receipts this year at $324,600,000 and expects the sum (Continued on Page Eight)

DR. ECKENER MAY TALK WITH F. D. ON HELIUM GAS

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran dirigible commander, today began a series of conferences with officials seeking a supply of American helium so that German dirigibles can fly without risk of fire.

There was a possibility that President Roosevelt would see Dr. Eckener to discuss the problem. Others with whom he is expected to confer include officials of interior, war, navy, commerce, and post office departments. A board composed of the secretaries of the first four departments is studying, in behalf of President Roosevelt, the problem of authorizing export of a limited amount of helium to Germany for commercial purposes.

BRITAIN MOVES MANY REFUGEES TO NEW HOMES

GIBRALTAR, May 25.—(UP)—A group of 450 Spanish loyalist refugees, ordered to leave overcrowded Gibraltar, left for Valencia, the loyalist wartime capital, today in the hospital ship Maine.

They are the first of some 2,000 ordered to leave the fortress. After sheltering thousands of the refugees since the beginning of the civil war the government decided three weeks ago that the visitors must leave.

Parents of the refugees from Spanish soil wept and many Britons bade farewell to today's refugees. Many women wept. But the refugees themselves shouted joyfully and gave the left front salute of raised fist.

The original order was that all Spaniards refugee in Gibraltar must leave, including 300 dock workers some of whom had seen from 25 to 30 years' experience—men who had worked here and gone home to Spain each night before the civil war. But at the last moment they were excluded from the departure order and kept their jobs.

The government notified the Spanish loyalist consul May 8 that all refugees must leave after the coronation of King George.

BRADY AND AIDE NAMED IN DARING INDIANA HOLDUP

"Little Dillinger" Bandits Named as Outlaws By Capt. Matt Leach

STATE POLICE IN CHASE

Highway Patrol Reports Wounded Man Dead

GOODLAND, Ind., May 25.—(UP)—Two bandits tentatively identified as members of Alfred Brady's "second Dillinger gang" robbed the Goodland state bank of $2,500 today and critically wounded an Indiana state policeman in their getaway. (State highway patrolmen later reported the trooper dead).

Patrolman Paul Minneman was wounded near Logansport, about 25 miles south of Goodland, while exchanging shots with the bandit car.

Capt. Matt Leach, of the Indiana state police, clamped down the road blockade system inaugurated during the two-year hunt for the late John Dillinger whom Brady and his followers have attempted to emulate.

Two Men Identified

The bank was held up by two men tentatively identified as Brady and James Dolhovey. They escaped in an automobile bearing the same license plates as a car which carried three men who took $1,400 from the Farmland state bank April 27.

Brady and Dolhovey escaped from the Greenfield jail last fall after beating the sheriff. They boasted that if they ever got out they would "make John Dillinger look like a piker." Witnesses said the bandit car headed toward the Illinois line immediately after the holdup, but apparently it backtracked from the border across which deputy sheriffs and state police had thrown a blockade.

Minneman attempted to halt the bandit car west of Logansport. A machine gun was thrust from the car, fired a blast in the policeman's abdomen and roared away.

Capt. Leach Positive

Sheriff Harry Hufty of Newton county and Capt. Leach said they were positive the robbery and shooting were committed by the Brady gangsters.

The same men are wanted in connection with the killing of Police Sergeant Harry Rivers of Indianapolis.

DIONNE BABIES MAY TALK OVER RADIO FRIDAY

The Canadian Broadcasting Commission will handle the broadcast from the Dafeo nursery. The program will be carried over a trans-Canada network and over the United States' systems. Time of the broadcast has been tentatively set from 3:30 p. m. EST. It will be carried by shortwave to England.

LEGION TO SEEK MANY TO ENTER BIG COMPETITION

$100 Fixed as Prize to First Place Winner; Location Uncertain

BIRD CLUB IS ACTIVE

Entrance Fee Suggested For Horse Show

Pumpkin Show directors approved two additions to the celebration Monday night. They are a dog show and an American Legion drum corps contest.

An appropriation of $175 for three prizes in the drum corps contest was voted by Proctor Baughman, director of parades, under whose supervision the contest will be staged. The three prizes will be $100 for first, $50 for second, and $25 for third.

The contest is expected to bring at least 12 drum corps to Circleville from throughout central and southern Ohio. The contest will probably be held on Thursday. Where it will be staged is uncertain.

Eby to Direct
The dog show will be under the direction of Byron Eby, president of the Pickaway County Bird Club. Eby met with the directors to explain plans he had outlined for the show.

A $1 entrance fee will be charged for registered dogs or those eligible to register. Directors approved also an admission charge for the show.

There will be two major classes in the exhibit, one for sporting dogs and the other for miscellaneous types. One large trophy will be given for the best dog in the show. Other trophies will be awarded the best dogs of the two classes. Other prizes will be ribbons. All dogs entered in the show will be examined by a veterinarian before being granted an entry blank.

Fees obtained from the entrance charge will go to the dog club for purchasing pheasants and game. The admission fees will be paid to the society to meet expenses of the exhibit.

Building Sought
Eby said the club hoped to obtain a building for the show. Benches may be obtained from Columbus or from Lancaster, where dog shows are held yearly.

Elmer Wolf, director of the horse show, said a suggestion had been made by Proctor Baughman that trophies instead of cash awards, be given in the horse show.

T. D. Krinn, director of amusements, favored an admission charge for the horse show. Mr. Wolf opposed a charge for the draft horse exhibit, but believed it would be satisfactory for the saddle horse show as considerable expense is involved. No action was taken on the admission charge for the horse show. A suggestion that yearling and weanling colts be added to the harness class was referred to Mr. Wolf.

Mrs. Orion King, chairman of the flower show, submitted her premium list to the society for consideration and explained four new classes had been added.

Confined to Countians
John Walters said the grain, fruit, vegetable and pumpkin displays will be confined to Pickaway county residents only. He said there were many outside exhibitors last year. He received complaints on premiums being paid to outsiders, he said.

Robert Colville, treasurer of the organization and advertising director, said arrangements would be worked out for the Little German band to attend the various celebrations throughout the county to advertise the festival. Bumper signs will not be purchased this year as they were too quickly damaged and removed from autos.

Colville suggested pictures of members of the Junior fair board be placed in the premium list. This brought a suggestion that cuts of

Ex-Sheriff of Pickaway county, H. M. (Roe) Dunnick, known to very many of our readers, is now, and has been for several years, a resident of Lancaster, Mr. Dunnick on last January 24, celebrated in a quiet way, his eighty-third birthday. He is mentally well advanced, keeping abreast of current events and occasionally comes to town to see his father-in-law, Uncle Dave Brobst, who kept store at Marcy for years and years. Said Uncle Dave in one of the heated presidential campaigns years ago, had raised near his store an ash pole (Republican style) and of course topped it out with the usual national emblem, the American flag. "Somebody," whoever that might have been, shinned up the pole and replaced the flag with a nice piece of crape. This nearly broke Uncle Dave's heart because he was a Republican of the old school and couldn't take it. He always blamed Roe and his other son-in-law, Ab. Teegardin for playing this "dirty trick" on him. But to this day, Roe stoutly denies that he had anything to do with it. But of course there would be no harm at all in knowing who did it.

New Perambulator At Home Of Lindberghs

LONDON, May 25.—(UP)—A new perambulator arrived at the residence of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh at Weald, Kent, today, awaiting the arrival of the baby boy born to Mrs. Lindbergh last week.

It was reported at Weald that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh would return to their home, Long Barn, soon.

The Daily Express reported that Mrs. Lindbergh was at the London clinic, in the Devonshire place medical district here, with her seven pound boy.

Lindbergh was reported to have visited the clinic daily since the baby was born, sometimes with his son Jon, now nearly five years old. It was said that Lindbergh visited his wife late last night in her suite on the seventh floor of the clinic, where she is attended by Dr. Farley Holland and three nurses.

According to the Express, the baby was born just before noon last Thursday after Lindbergh drove his wife to the clinic coronation night from their home in Kent.

People at the clinic refuse information of the Lindbergh baby, saying they have orders not to talk. A policeman patrols outside and additional porters have been assigned to watch all doors.

The Express reported that Mrs. Lindbergh was introduced to nurses as "Mrs. Charles" and that New York after returning from a trip to London.

PICCARD'S HUGE BALLOON BLOWN UP IN EUROPE

Explosion, Fire Destroy Stratosphere Ship At Brussels

NO ONE IS INJURED

Test Flight Planned As Disaster Strikes

BRUSSELS, May 25—(UP)—A stratosphere balloon in which Prof. August Piccard and Max Cosyns planned a test flight exploded and was destroyed by fire today as it was being inflated. No one was injured.

Piccard, stratosphere pioneer, and Cosyns, his fellow physicist-ballooning, intended to ascend to 22,960 feet this morning to study the warming and cooling properties of the balloon envelope and test its stability.

As it was being inflated, the balloon's car became entangled in the envelope while the heater inside continued to operate. The wind caught the envelope and started a fire. Had today's test been favorable, Piccard and Cosyns intended to make use of the results in constructing a balloon 197 feet in diameter, able to climb to 98,400 feet.

The balloon which burned was used in Piccard's 1932 stratosphere flight when he reached an altitude of 53,139 feet.

When the picture was completed, La Temple was able to carry on a conversation with a little Chinese child who appeared with her.

AT THE CIRCLE

A total of 4,800 soles were worn out during filming of M-G-M's latest musical extravaganza, "Born to Dance," which brings Eleanor Powell, "Queen of Taps," and a host of rhythm-makers to the screen of the Circle Theatre tonight.

The figure was arrived at by Prop Man Hal Sausser who holds the title of "shoemaker" as well as prop man at the Metro studios. Sausser based his figures on the number of persons including cast, crew, laborers, dressmakers, carpenters, extras, dancers, cameramen and painters who were engaged during filming of the new production.

To New State Department Posts

Sumner Welles

R. Walton Moore

TWO assistants to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Sumner Welles, an expert on Latin-American affairs, and R. Walton Moore, whom Hull brought to the department, are scheduled for step-ups in the state department. To give each a post of equal pay—$10,000—President Roosevelt has recreated the position of counselor of the state department. Moore will be named counselor, and Welles will be given the undersecretary post. Both officials aspired to the undersecretary post left vacant last summer when William Phillips was appointed ambassador to Rome.

Richer Harvest For Boys, Girls Of State Advised

COLUMBUS, May 25.—Cultivation of Ohio's most important crop, boys and girls, deserves a great deal more attention than has been given it, but laying down rules that will lead to a richer harvest is very difficult, according to Dean John F. Cunningham, Ohio State University, who says that uniform methods do not apply when each youngster has individual plans and talents.

However, those who are graduating from high school and who plan to attend some college can be given some assistance that may help them. The dean favors having the boy or girl attend a college or university where the courses of study are broad enough the first year or two so the student can get training which certainly will be of value no matter what occupation is followed afterwards.

Technical Course Advised

Technical courses which are pointed at specific occupations can be selected as the major portion of the work during the latter part of the college course. The student will have had a chance to find which courses are best suited to his habits of thought and study and can consult with members of the teaching staff before making a decision.

The question of expense is also an important one to many prospective students and their parents. Dean Cunningham says the average expense a year at Ohio State has been $456 for men and $483 for women. This includes necessary expenses, but does not allow for other costs such as entertainment, which will vary according to the individual tastes and the money available for gratifying them.

The dean of the college of agriculture states that many students at Ohio State university earn money to pay part or all their expenses at the university, but he states that this is difficult for new students. Courses of study are outlined to require most of the available time of the freshman student and hours spent earning money frequently interfere with study needed to get the most benefit from the college course.

Pupils Should Save

Where possible, Dean Cunningham advises high school students who cannot pay their first year's college expenses to work and save the needed amount before entering college. This method is preferable to overtaxing physical and mental resources by trying to earn a living and go to college at the same time or by trying to reduce living expenses at college by going without the proper amount of food.

Students in the upper classes have a better chance to earn at least part of their expenses. They know better how much time they can spend at work and they can arrange their class schedules better than the first year students.

The dean concludes his remarks by advising that each high school pupil who intends to go to college arrange a conference with his high school superintendent and discuss the matter before a final decision is made. The superintendents know the pupil and his scholastic record and can help him avoid making mistakes which will be hard to correct later.

GRAHAM ORDERS TWO YOUTHS PUT IN COUNTY JAIL

Two youths were fined $25 and costs each and sent to the county jail Monday by Mayor W. J. Graham.

George Rhoads, 19, who resides along the canal, north of the city, was fined on a petit larceny charge involving the theft of a bicycle. The charge was filed by John Ankrom, S. Court street.

Charles Smith, 18, of 716 S. Washington street, was fined for failure to stop after his car collided with the auto of Richard Peters, Route 5, at Court and Franklin streets, Sunday.

IF RAILROAD DOLLARS COULD BE MARKED—

YOU would find these dollars in your pocket, whether you are a manufacturer, a coal miner, a steel worker, a merchant, a farmer, a butcher, a baker, or a candlestick maker.

Last year, the American railroads—the nation's No. 1 customer—spent more than a billion dollars for materials and supplies—70,000 different items—used in their everyday operation. More than a billion dollars distributed in the thousands of industrial and agricultural communities in every section of the land.

Consider a few items on this stupendous "shopping list": nearly one-fourth of all the bituminous coal produced in the United States, one-fifth of the entire timber cut, more than 18 per cent of the iron and steel output, one-fifth of the fuel oil, 790 tons of pins and paper clips, $14,000,000 for stationery and printing, to say nothing of nine million pounds of potatoes and two million dozen eggs, purchased from the farmer; more than 15 million pounds of choice meats, from the butcher; and 22½ million slices of bread and 30 million rolls, from the baker. . . the railroads are good customers even of the candlestick maker.

But what do these railway purchases mean to you?

Railroad purchases pay 20 per cent of your wages, if you are a lumber worker; about 25 per cent, if you are a coal miner; 18 per cent, if you work in the steel industry, and a substantial part of the income of millions of other men and women engaged in thousands of other pursuits.

Coming closer home, your railroad—the Norfolk and Western—last year expended approximately $18,000,000 for materials and supplies in the hundreds of communities along its lines and in other parts of the country.

Railroad purchases are in direct proportion to railway revenues. And your patronage and support determine railway revenues.

GEORGE FOERST

CIRCLEVILLE lost a tried and true friend, Monday, when George Foerst died. A resident of the City all the 59 years of his life, he was one of its most ardent boosters.
He gave up a much more lucrative position
with the company he represented to retain his home in Circleville among the friends
he had made in his years of contact with them in business and social life. He refused to leave his native city even though he might have lost his position. George Foerst was a familiar figure to Circleville and Pickaway county residents. Large in size, but with a heart much greater than the body that enclosed it, he was a friend to hundreds of persons with whom he dealt each day. To Circleville residents, he was "the Gas Company." His 43 years with the utility made its name and his synonymous.
The Elks club never had a more loyal supporter than George Foerst. His home came first; then, his business, and lastly the Elks. Truly, Circleville has lost a man who will be missed.

YOUTH'S PRICELESS HERITAGE

STANLEY Baldwin's remarkable valedictory as Prime Minister of England,
addressed primarily to the youth of Great Britain, could with inspiration and great advantage be read by the young people of America and of every other land. Unhappily, it will never see the light of day in Russia, Italy or Germany, where boys and young men are even now being transformed into dumb, driven creatures of the State,
the pitiable automatons of dictators.

"We are passing. You are the governors of the future," he said. "We vest in you the duty of guarding and safeguarding what is worthy and worthwhile in our past, our heritage and our traditions. . . . And it will be for you to protect the democracies in whatever form of empire you may live.
They must be defended from without, and equally they have to be defended from within. And it may well be that you will have to save democracy from itself."

The estate which British youth inherits,
as described by Mr. Baldwin, is also the estate to which America's youth falls heir,
but to an even greater degree. The beauty of the countryside, the treasures of art and literature, the accumulated moral and material wealth, and the freedom, ordered freedom within the law, "with force in the background and not in the foreground,"
are to be found here as bounteously as in England. And, of course, the obligation and the necessity of safeguarding them exists.

For proof that this heritage is in danger
it is only necessary to look here and there on the Continent. Where the rule of the dictator is supreme the meaning of liberty

DOCUMENTARY TIME BOMB BURIED

WASHINGTON — If some Senator will reach into a certain filing cabinet of the Senate Agriculture committee he will find a time bomb which will convulse the farm belt.

It is a public document which cost the taxpayers of the county $300,000, but for three months it has been carefully hidden.
The report deals with farm income and was compiled by the Federal Trade Commission under a Senate resolution.

Some of the dynamite-loaded facts revealed in the report are:

The first complete and detailed figures ever compiled on the sales, profits and fancy salaries of packing companies, millers and other big firms dealing in farm commodities.

The extraordinary profits made by dealers in farm produce—who were among the most violent foes of the Supreme Court-invalidated AAA.

How grain and cotton speculators manipulated prices on commodity exchanges to the enrichment of themselves and the loss
of tens of millions to growers and consumers. These operators also were vehement enemies of the AAA.

UNDERCOVER STRUGGLE

The behind-the-scenes story of the Trade Commission's struggle to unearth
these closely guarded secrets is as remarkable as the facts uncovered. In some cases investigators were met with open defiance
and the Commission had to go to the courts to compel the recalcitrants to open their books. In other instances firms produced their accounts only when threatened with citation for contempt of the State.

Virtually the entire economic staff of the Commission worked on the report and experts who have seen it rate it as one of the most comprehensive and searching ever compiled by the agency.

Yet, when it was sent to the Senate committee it was ordered impounded and merely a brief summary was released, giving no inkling of the sensational contents.

Chairman of the Agriculture Committee is Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith. When the AAA was in operation the veteran South
Carolinian violently opposed amendments
which would have empowered the Agriculture Department to examine the books of packers, millers and other farm produce processors and dealers.

NOTE—Senator Smith has five members of his family on the government payroll.

has been lost and democracy is nothing more than a byword and a jest. "The fruits of the free spirit of men do not grow in the garden of tyranny," declares Mr. Baldwin, and his statement is a self-evident
truth which finds substantiation in those domains where Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin dominate the scene and where young men
are being prepared for sacrifice in defense of autocracy.

Looking to these countries and observing the grim processes which they been so fortunate as to escape, the youth of free lands
will realize more fully the evils they must guard against. Americans, remote from European contagions, are not menaced so intimately by the enveloping evils of Communism and Fascism. Nevertheless, the obligation of vigilance in the protection of the heritage of democracy is one which must be fulfilled scrupulously by the youth of America.

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

VIRGINIA SCALLON

READ THIS FIRST:

Sandy Knight, in the temporary role of a radio announcer of a Children's hour program, has been mailed by the fan mail of a lady named Maddy.
Disgusted and humiliated, he jumps into his car and leaves town. After driving for miles, he pauses at a deserted beach for a plunge in the ocean.
Suddenly a girl appears and asks
Sandy to rescue her dog.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 3

AN UNEXPECTEDLY violent
wave cut short Sandy's explanations and snatched the dog from his grasp. Chaos reigned while Sandy struggled to regain his noid.
"Dammit, catch him!" the girl
screamed as she saw her pup swimming valiantly toward the wrong
shore of the Pacific.

"Don't cuss me. Go hide your face," came from the man in resolute tones.
Sandy gingerly emerged from the water. He held on to the dog while he dressed behind the sheltering rocks, then came out with the water-logged canine in his arms. The girl still face down in the sand, was fairly choked with laughter. He gazed at her resentfully, but still found time to approve her golden tan, so well set off by the trim suit and the scarlet swimming cape on which she was lying.

"Here's your dog, milady, safe
and sounding like a wheezing old calliope," he held out the sodden
covering pup to her.
"Why then, I thank ye, kind sir,"
she said, and rose to make a formal bow. Tears of laughter still clung to the long lashes that shaded her blue eyes, and her mouth curved into a mischievous smile as she added, "Dammit was frightened by the booming waves,
and he lost his head."

"—and very nearly his life, not to mention my self-respect," said
Sandy, glancing ruefully at his
"bagged" appearance.
"My name is Marcia, mad Marcia some call me, and you'll
think me, after this wild episode.
And now, meet Dammit, the dog." In recognition of her introduction,
the terrier sat on his hind legs and extended a paw in the approved manner.

"Well, mad Marcia, I'm Andrew,
sometimes known as Sandy. But you—haven't you a more complete title, a Miss Somebody or Something?"

"Yes," and she told him: "Madden."

"A lady named Madden by the great Palm Point." Sandy glanced toward the towering palm, then turned unceremoniously toward
the girl.

"And how is poor dear Alicia,
and that cunning, chunky Jamie?"
he said bittily. He forgot his play-fellow attitude, and stood accusingly in front of her.

"Alicia? Jamie? Why—oh,
you must be—"

"Yes, I'm Andrew Knight, alias
one very glib radio announcer.
That trusting 'good samaritan' of the air you've no doubt laughed
about. Station KROX, signing off." Sandy whirled on his bare heel, cut it painfully on a shell,
then limped off in high dungeon.
He disclaimed to listen to any explanations she might provide, for he felt nothing could compensate
for the humiliation he had suffered
on her account.

Then he heard a chuckle which burst into delighted laughter.
"Well, then, he called at him
hilariously. "I must say you do
look quite a bit like your picture.
Surely, you don't intend to leave
like that?" Marcia gurgled, glancing at his moist and incomplete
array, his bare feet and his ferocious scowl. He did look very much like that certain college
freshman whose picture he had sent to Jamie as a joke.

No young man can make a successful or dignified retreat when
a very attractive girl is openly laughing at him, when his clothes
are all awry, and when he could imagine nothing more pleasant than a real talk with the pretty penitent who had suddenly turned misanthropic.

"If there is any explanation you can give, I'd like to hear it!"
Sandy presented a picture of ruffled vanity and hurt feelings as he stood somewhat belligerently before Marcia. "You took advantage of my—"

"You—er, you called me Mr. Knight?"

account of your grandma's dreams.
Nightmares, I'd call 'em!"
"But it was all meant in fun, a harmless correspondence by a sweet old lady. You'll forgive her, won't you? I'm dreadfully sorry for all the trouble we've caused."

"Good nature, I'm sure," supplied Marcia earnestly.

"Well," asked Sandy, as she seemed reluctant to begin.
"I wrote the letters," she began with a tremulous bravado. "But Grandma really started the trouble, bless her. You won't misunderstand if I tell you that she has
'dreams' occasionally, will you?"
Marcia waited for a reassuring nod
before continuing: "She took an extraordinary fancy to your voice,
and insisted on writing you. Heaven only knows why she wrote about Jamie, except that that was the name of her son who died as a baby. I guess she just imagined
how he would have enjoyed your jolly program and—well, you know what she dictated in that first letter. Of course I never intended to mail it; I was only humoring her at first. But the postman came while I was out, and Grandma sent the letter off."

She stopped and looked at Sandy. "Go ahead," he said.
"That's about all. When she got your answer, she was as pleased as a kid with a new game, and nothing would do but she must go on with it. I couldn't see that it could do any harm. And I did like your letter." Marcia pleaded for understanding.

"That much is all right, but why
under the shining sun did she have to kill them both off? I was beginning to care for that little fellow, and I had a soft spot in my heart for Mrs. Alicia, too."

"KILL them? Why, what do you mean?" Marcia's surprise was mirrored in her deep blue eyes.
"I received a third letter just yesterday, when she threatened suicide. Said she was going to do away with both—"

"Oh, she didn't mean anything
so drastic," Marcia said, relieved.
"She merely was afraid you might become too interested in little Jamie and come dashing down to see him. I think she said something about the adventure will be over for me and Jamie! I can see how you might have misinterpreted it, though."

"Misinterpreted? Why, I turned the whole city of Los Angeles upside down. I stood the chief of police on his ear, and I had all the steamship companies looking for a couple of would-be suicides. Why, I'm front page history now—on

co, Cal., where they expect to

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Late a-bed and then below-
stairs hurriedly for coffee and
to agree fully with the radio comedian who declared that breakfast is what gets all over the morning newspaper. Another lovely morning, so soon out and about the ville, stopping at the post and meeting there many of the great and near great. Then to the plant for a session of routine duties.

There goes Paul Johnson, who Sunday sold a Shetland pony to a little boy from Greenfield. The boy's father discussed delivery
of the pet, but the boy insisted that the pony be taken home at once. "I think I could get him
in the car," the lad told his father and then he proceeded to do so and away to Greenfield
went a father, a happy little boy and his new pet. Here comes the Rev. Herman A. Sayre, who wisely has abandoned the auto
as a means of local transportation and is riding a bicycle.

Health of most of us would be better if we would do the same.

George Foerst is dead, the happy, smiling George who knew every man, woman and child in the ville. George was a friend to all and in the year
that did know him never heard him utter an unkind word about anyone. George lived for Circleville and the Gas company by which he was employed as manager. But the city came first,
so much so that a few years
ago when he was made district manager he refused the appointment because it made residence in another city necessary. All of us have suffered a big loss in his death.

A few years ago a young married man moved into one of George Foerst's houses. His rent fell due a few days before the young man's payday and he went to George asking brief
grace. "Short of money?"
George asked. The young man said that he was not, but that immediate payment would be inconvenient. "Well," said George,

"if you are short I will pay you
the first month's rent instead of you paying me." No story is more typical of the man.

Talked with a group of boys
and girls and learned that none of them regrets the fact that school soon is to be dismissed
for the summer. A surprisingly large number of high school
senior class members plan attendance at college, a good omen. Learning to think is much better for youth and the community than learning to loaf,
and much more profitable, too.

A procession of office visitors
in the afternoon and then home
late, turning to a good book that held attention until bedtime
when did inspect the refrigerator, deciding against the roast
and choosing wafers washed
down by a beaker of milk.

DIET AND HEALTH

Exercise Should Suit Age of the Individual

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE TIME is here when the weather permits us to take outdoor daily exercise again. Young,
middle-aged and old will all try
some of it.
Exercise is a lot of fun and
a real pleasure. It induces a feeling of health,
provided the body is healthy to begin with, and
for this reason is probably esteemed
as a health-
giving measure more than
it deserves.

It can sometimes do harm, and
the kind of exercise which is taken
should be adapted to the individual. I think it is fair to say that it is more for the young man than for the middle-aged and old, and this is something which instinctively everybody follows. As time goes on everyone gradually cuts
down on his exercise without realizing it, and there is nothing more pitiful than to see a middle-aged
or elderly person doggedly going at some form of exercise which he firmly believes to be health giving
and life saving when, as a matter of fact, it is doing him harm and
a period of rest would be very much better for him.

I think it can be said without fear of contradiction that unless exercise gives pleasure, and unless the body responds with a feeling of vigor and virility, that it is not beneficial. If you are tired or dragged out after exercise, you should replace it with an equally

valuable, if not more health-giving measure—rest.
Exercises that are associated with games usually are more beneficial than the others. They are perhaps not as systematic and do not exercise all the muscles of the body quite as well, but the psychological element enters into it, and we get more pleasure and more
benefit from exercise in the form of a game than otherwise. We also do more of it unconsciously because we are interested in the game.

For the most of us, games which give exercise are tennis, baseball and golf. It is a fairly good rule that tennis and baseball are only for those of early years and should not be carried over to the place where excessive breathlessness attends the playing of them. I saw a baseball game the other day in which Hornsby had just resumed
his position at second base and everybody was referring to him as the "Old Man". He is actually 41, but that is about the time when most people should give up such strenuous forms of exertion.

Swimming is a good all-around exercise for people of nearly any age. There are two features of swimming that make it very easy for people of any age to take. One is the fact that the body is supported by the water so that the muscles move without undue exertion—that is, without the exertion
of supporting the body upright.
Also the water is cooling and prevents the uncomfortable feeling of overheating that comes with exercise. For these two reasons swimming can be kept up a good deal
longer than any other form of exercise. There is a little danger in that because the patient does not feel the extra effort and may do too much—more than he would
if he were playing tennis or golf.

WHITE SOX PARK SCENE

Ring To Be Built Near Second Base

CHICAGO, May 25.—(UP)—Tickets for the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight title fight, greatest box office national since the second Dempsey-Tunney bout, went on sale today with $400,000 worth of orders in the safe before the first fight fan stepped up to the window.

When the line began to form, Promoters Joe Foley and Mike Jacobs counted $100,000 in actual cash and reservations totaling approximately one-third of a gate expected to exceed a million dollars.

"It can't miss a sellout," beamed Jacobs. "I've never seen anything like it."

Comiskey park, scene of the June 22 battle, has been sealed to seat 80,000 spectators who will pay $27.50, $16.50, $11.00 and $6.00 for reserved seats. If all space is sold, it may gross $1,400,000.

Jacobs, credited as the man behind the scenes that maneuvered the champion out of a scheduled bout with Schmeling, was jubilant over the selection of White Sox park as site of the fight. Soldier field was the original choice.

"Every seat-holder will see the match," Jacobs said. "We couldn't do better than that compact ball park. It's the perfect spot."

The ring will be built near second base. The first rows of ring-side seats will be ground-level, others on an elevation extending back to the box seats along first and third base lines.

Two British Skippers Feud Over Sea Incident

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25.—(UP)—A bitter feud between the British skippers of the racing yacht Endeavour I and her convoy Viva II was the only serious aftermath today of the separation of the boats in mid-Atlantic.

It was reported that the principals were very serious about the incident and that lots of water-front language was being used by both sides. A source close to British yachtsmen, here for the America's cup races, said that the Endeavour's captain charged that he had been deserted on the high seas when the Viva slipped a towline in a storm May 14. As a result the potential challenger was forced to make a 1,100 miles of her Atlantic journey on her own.

The United Press informant said that Captain Ned Heard of the Endeavour was "most infuriated by it all." Officers of the Viva, including Captain Wallace Grint, insisted that the convoy did not proceed to Newport until after she had searched "40 hours" for the Endeavour.

Those aboard the Endeavour, it was said, felt that the night after the two boats separated, the Viva continued to Newport after acknowledging receipt of the sloop's radioed position instead of returning to pick up the Endeavour. That was the last heard of the racing yacht until she was sighted off Nantucket lightship Sunday.

TIGER GOLFERS LOSE 2 TO 10 TO GRAND VIEWERS

Grandview high school golfers won a 10 to 2 victory over the Red and Black, Monday, on the Pickaway Country club course.

Nunn, who was pitted against Bill Fricke, tallied a par 36 on his first nine, but slipped to 49 on the last, permitting his foe to win a point.

Raymond Adkins won the other point from Circo.

Harold Imier lost three and so did Bob Denny and Junior Imier, each of whom played nine holes.

MOORE PITCHES WELL, BUT HOLDS LOSING MARGIN

CINCINNATI, May 25.—(UP)—Lloyd (Whitey) Moore, a 22-year-old right-hander who won 20 games while losing only five in the Cotton States league a year ago, today wondered what a hurler had to do to gain a National league triumph.

Moore hurled great ball here yesterday, but all he received for his effort was a 1 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The contest was the third that Moore has started. In his two previous appearances the young right-hander beat himself through wildness. Yesterday however his control was near perfect. He walked only one man and hit another with a pitched ball.

Brooklyn was able to garner only six hits off the Red rookie in the eight innings he worked but it bunched three of them in the second inning for the game's only run.

Buddy Hassett started the second with a single and went to third when John Winsett came through with a duplicate blow. Moore then bore down to fan Babe Phelps and Woody English, but Joe Stripp singled to send Hassett home.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, erstwhile University of Georgia halfback, who won a starting berth on the Yankee pitching staff by hurling his second straight shutout, allowing only six hits as he beat the Indians, 14-0.

PURCELL'S HIT AIDS SOHOANS

Home Run Clout Comes With Two Mates On Base Paths

Carl Purcell's home run in the first inning with two mates aboard gave the Sohio softball team a 6-3 margin over the Container Corporation in the Tri-County Recreation league.

Because Leonard Buskirk, strawboard ace, did not arrive in time to start the fray, Eddie Watson, center fielder, was in the box at the outset. Watson twirled good ball, but dished out one that was too good for Purcell.

Trimmer and Hutchinson hit for the circuit for the strawboard boys, but the C.C.A. outfit could not get runners on base to score in front of them.

Tonight puts the Athletic Club team on the field with the Cooper Oil, fast Commercial Point outfit.

On the strawboard and Sohio teams last night were: C. C. of A., Watson, Trimmer, G. Brungs, Whaley, Hutchinson, Strawser, Holland, R. Brungs, Thomas, Butler, Buskirk, Sohio, Dumm, Roby, Fausnaugh, Purcell, Carle, Leasure, Strawser, Wefler, Jenkins and Wilson.

ALL FISHERMEN NEED NEW OHIO PERMITS MAY 29

Clarence Francis, conservation officer, called attention of anglers who plan fishing trips over Decoration Day to the new 50 cents universal license. The law becomes effective May 29.

Under the new law all persons, 18 years of age and over, must have a license to fish.

About This And That In Many Sports

By BILL BRAUCHER
Loughran vs. Tendler

Tommy Loughran has gone into the cafe business in Philadelphia ... one of his business rivals is Low Tendler, who came within a whisker of winning the world's lightweight title from Benny Leonard ... that makes 11,876 cauliflowerers now peddling liquid refreshment ... Jack Dempsey is taking time off from his restaurant business to try to match Pedro Montanez and Lou Ambers for the lightweight championship at Ebbets Field this summer ... Mike Jacobs controls boxing at the Polo Grounds ...

Bridges Slipping?

Some of the hitters in the American league are saying Tommy Bridges hasn't got it any more ... they mean that fast one he used to call upon in a pinch ... but he is winning a few games by the same method Wesley Ferrell has been following for two years ... not giving the batters good ones to hit ... During the free-for-all at St. Louis between the Giants and Cardinals, Carl Hubbell stood aside enjoying the fun ... and taking care no one came up behind him to let a sucker punch ... Lynn Nelson, pitcher Connie Mack picked up on his way through Memphis in spring, is a former boxer ... Tommy Henrich, elevated to the position of left fielder for the Yanks this year, is a former steel mill clerk in Massillon, O. Gilbert Brack, who is starting for the Dodgers, formerly toiled in a bat factory in Louisville, Ky. ... Clyde Castleman, Giants' pitcher, is a former dairyman ... Lyn Lary is a former stenographer, and can still make the keys fly ...

New Mystery Man

This Mysterious Montague guy is coming to New York to play golf, according to Tommy Tailor, young socialite golfer and former Metropolitan amateur champion ... Montague is the exclusive Hollywood gent who has been hailed as the greatest golfer ever to walk a green, an almost mythical person whose private feats on the fairways belie reality ... Montague is slated to appear, the tip is, at exclusive Meadow Brook club, Westbury, Long Island, some time after the middle of June ... Matches are being cooked up for the Los Angeles mystery man.

Mysterious Montague has become almost a legend ... he bet he could drive a golf ball three-quarters of a mile in five shots and won easily ... he bet Bing Crosby he could beat him using a shovel, ball bat and rake, and did it ... He has been called a combination of Paul Bunyan, Popeye the Sailor, Brick Bradford, and Ivan Petrovsky Skovra ... He can score in the 60's whenever he wants to ... he made a 61 at Palm Springs, Cal. ... he scored 66 to beat George Von Elm ... he is built like a wrestler, is about 35 years old, is powerfully muscled, and has huge hands ... Johnny Bulla, young Chicago professional, reports having played nine holes with the 220-pound giant of the links ... Bulla says Montague hits his drives 280 and 290 yards ... all straight ... and he saw him hit a ball 240 yards with a No. 1 iron ... with a No. 5 iron, Montague hit targets 175 yards away, making the ball fade 10 or 12 yards ... he repeated the operation with hooked shots ... and put beautiful backspin ranging from six to eight yards on long approaches with a No. 5 iron, shooting to a fast green ... Montague is reported to derive a comfortable income from silver or gold mines in the west.

LEARN TO ACCEPT GIFTS

SOME OF the most beautiful plays in the game are made possible by an opponent's mistake, which need not, however, take credit away from the one who senses the opportunity and proceeds to cash in on it. The accepting of gifts can involve displays of just as much legerdemain as anything else connected with the game.

spades, which did. The alert declarer was looking for a chance to make a squeeze play for the trick which meant the difference between victory and defeat, and the spade discard was just what he hoped for.

As he led the last club, East held: spades, Q-10; hearts, K; diamonds, K-2. If he threw a diamond, the Ace would drop his K. If he tossed a spade, the K would drop his Q. He discarded his heart K. The spade K was led and the heart J played, squeezing East again. If he abandoned his last spade, both of South's would be set up, so he discarded the little diamond and the 3 diamonds in dummy became good. That play would have been impossible if West had not discarded his spades.

After North's opening bid of 1-Club, the North-South pair ended up in a contract of 7-No Trumps, which East doubled.

West led the heart 7, which was covered by East's Q and won with the Ace. The declarer now went after the club suit and both opponents were badly pinched, though West did not quite realize it. With five discards to make on the first 6 club tricks, he picked 2 hearts, which did no harm, and his 3

KIWANIS CLUB DIRECTORS VOTE TO LEAD BOY SCOUT FINANCIAL DRIVE

$600 REQUIRED TO PAY SHARE OF AREA COSTS

Chairman To Be Appointed At Later Meeting; Other Counties Busy

COLUMBUS FUND HELPS

Explanation Of Washington Jamboree Scheduled

Directors of the Kiwanis Club voted Monday evening to lead a campaign to raise $600 as Pickaway county's share of the budget of the Central Ohio Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The directors met at the conclusion of Monday evening's club gathering in Hanley's tearoom.

A chairman has not yet been determined for the drive, which will be held within the next two weeks. Howard Kautz, of Lancaster, field executive for the council, attended the meeting and explained the program to the club directors. Dwight Steele, president of the Kiwanis Club, urged support for the campaign.

It is probable that a breakfast meeting will be held next week to which all solicitors will be invited. Details are to be worked out.

All Quotas Larger

Pickaway is the only county in the area that has not started its campaign. All others have shown much progress although each of the counties except one, Hocking, has a much larger amount to raise than does Pickaway.

Troop committees are ready in Ashville, Williamsport and Kingsport to start work as soon as the world is given.

Pickaway is one of eight counties in the area. Each year $25,000 is raised to finance the council expense, the Columbus Community Chest paying $20,000 of it. The remainder is divided among Hocking, Fairfield, Madison, Delaware, Union, Fayette, and Pickaway counties. Expenses of the district include salaries of eight professional leaders, maintenance of a camp, funds for various activities, offices and supplies.

Kiwanians enjoyed an illustrated lecture on "Clocks" by Dr. Charles Haynes, of Chillicothe.

Delegation of Kiwanians from Chillicothe and the Northwest Columbus club were present, the latter inviting the Circleville club to a meeting June 11 in Columbus.

Scout Jamboree To Be Explained

Parents of Boy Scouts interested in sending their sons to the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C. June 30 to July 9, will have an opportunity to learn details concerning the huge youth gathering at Memorial Hall, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. A representative from the Central Ohio Area Council, of which Pickaway is a part, will be present to provide information.

Registrations for the Jamboree are reported brisk. So far no Circleville scouts have registered, but applications have been turned in from Lancaster, London, Delaware, Columbus and other points.

Over 25,000 boys from all over the United States will camp for 10 days at the nation's capital. Scouts from 25 foreign countries will participate. The scouts will meet President Roosevelt and other national figures during the 10 days.

BOARD HIRES TEACHERS

The Muhlenberg township Board of Education re-employed all teachers Monday night with the exception of Frank H. Johnston. Those re-hired were Russell F. Stebleton, Lawrence A. Pullen, Elizabeth Huston, William H. McKinney, Ruth Roe, Mary E. Dempster and Bernelle Goodman.

to go to $774,800,000 in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. These taxes will retire government bonds and, provided the budget is balanced, reduce the national debt.

Many Laws Enacted

Forty four states, the District of Columbia and Alaska have enacted unemployment insurance legislation in cooperation with the federal government. It is estimated that 2,700,000 employers pay Social Security taxes and that 27,800,000 persons have Social Security numbers preliminary to becoming eligible for old age benefits. Approximately 18,600,000 persons are participating in potential unemployment insurance.

Those decisions cleared the supreme court docket of New Deal cases. They were the 12th, 13th, and 14th successive pro-New Deal decisions at this term of court, a series of favorable judgments which began in January with the first case to be determined. That one involved validity of administration neutrality legislation.

One year ago this week the court struck down the New York minimum wage law. This week likewise is the anniversary of the 1935 opinion which destroyed NRA. In the 1935-36 court sessions the court ran 9 to 2 against the New Deal, only the gold act and phases of Tennessee Valley authority legislation escaping judicial extinction.

Some persons profess to discover in the record of court decisions the conflicting interplay of master strategists. They envision Mr. Roosevelt leading the forces which would capitalize political triumph by expanding the court, and Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, a strategist of the conference chamber, determined to prove the court adequately responsive to any emergency.

Others contend that the conflict of judicial and executive objectives has had more form than substance. It is argued that court decisions which wrecked New Deal Legislation often contained, also, carefully worded, if indirect, instructions from the bench how desired objectives could be obtained by re-shaping legislation to fit the constitutional pattern.

Hughes Joins Roberts

With his own vote and the recent support of Associate Justice Owen D. Roberts, Mr. Hughes has joined the three-so-called liberal justices in this session's extraordinary series of favorable New Deal decisions.

Associate Justices Louis D. Brandeis, Harlan F. Stone and

Benjamin Cardozo uniformly have supported the New Deal, their only desertions en masse taking place on those decisions in which the challenged legislation had not a single supporting vote:

1. Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act.
2. NRA.
3. Denial of president's right to remove members of independent commissions and agencies.
4. AAA processing taxes.

The court before which the fundamental issues of the Roosevelt administration have been argued will meet again for decisions June 1, but nothing of moment impending. Then the nine men will separate and at least one of them will not return. Justice Van Devanter's resignation gives Mr. Roosevelt the eagerly sought opportunity to name a younger and presumably more liberal person to the high bench.

The senate has massed behind the Democratic leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas. Robinson is 64 years old. Mr. Roosevelt's intentions are unknown, except that he will propose his candidate before this session of congress ends.

MOONEY IN HOSPITAL

concluded rapidly," Rayburn said. "But as a committee chairman, I never was able to undertake anything so far-reaching in such quick time."

Connery said he believed plenty of testimony is available from both industry and labor on the old 30 hour work week bill.

"I cannot see any reason to drag out hearings when we have covered much of the same ground in past years," he said.

Few Witnesses Needed

Connery said that Robert H. Jackson, representing the department of justice, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, a representative of big employers, A. F. of L. President William Green and CIO Leader John L. Lewis would be "all of the necessary witnesses."

Leaders admitted that the question of setting minimum wage and maximum hour standards probably would be the focal point of controversy.

Some members said privately that there was a "chance" that the legislation might get involved in such a tangle that, despite the president's request for early action, the program might be delayed until next session.

The wage and hour legislation was linked directly to the drive to balance the budget.

The Scioto Building and Loan Co. purchased two lots on Clinton street at the corner of Half avenue, sold in a suit filed against Wayne Bensonhaver, and others. The property was appraised at $1,500 and sold for $1,210.

The company purchased also the Goldfrederick property at Pickaway and Mound streets. It was appraised at $4,000 and sold for $2,666.77. The suit was against Herman M. Goldfrederick and others.

MANY PRODUCTS SOLD

Other reports showed 200 tons of fertilizer sold for corn. The organization distributed 300 bushels of hybrid seed corn to about 75 farmers and issued 100 bushels of Michigan seed potatoes.

GEORGE VI CALLS THREAT CHARGE FILED AGAINST COUNTY MAN, 65

MONTS, France, May 25 — (UP) — King George VI telephoned his elder brother, the Duke of Windsor, today and informed him regretfully that he is compelled to ban the attendance of British officials guests at the wedding of the duke to Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

The duke, who gave up the throne for the American woman he loves, succeeding in hiding his anger at what was described by his friends as "the final blow of Edward's enemies."

Members of the household staff gave assurance that King George, forced into his position by governmental and other pressure in England, did his best to console his brother.

The day towards which the ex-king has looked forward to with so much happiness will be marred by the absence of some of the closest friends of his youth and manhood.

The music room where the ceremony will be performed, regarded hitherto as too small to accommodate the guests, will now be easily large enough for the 10 or 12 who will show up.

The duke has received calls from various persons originally invited to the wedding on June 3, explaining why they cannot come. He was disheartened but distracted his mind by playing golf and badminton.

Joshua Schreckengast, 65, of Route 4, Circleville, was placed in the county jail Monday night after a charge that he had made menacing threats was filed in Mayor W. J. Graham's court by James H. Scarberry, a neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Scarberry told officers they walked three miles to Circleville, then to Beantown to talk with their landlord, before filing the charge. They live near the Morris church. Schreckengast will be given a hearing Tuesday afternoon.

Session Is Scheduled For Thursday At 9 A. M. in County Court

INQUEST COMPLETED

Verdict of Coroner Bowers Not Yet Disclosed

The Pickaway county grand jury has been ordered to report Thursday at 9 a. m. to investigate the shooting of Weldon J. Babb, 32, Perry township farmer, last Tuesday.

It will consider also a statutory charge against Walter Hart, 62, of E. Logan street.

Coroner C. E. Bowers conducted an inquest Monday in the shooting of Babb, but has not announced a verdict. John L. Teets, 26, son of tenants on the Babb farm, is being held in the county jail for investigation. No charge has been filed against him.

Hart was bound to the grand jury in Mayor W. J. Graham's court on a charge filed by Allen Trego, Walnut street. Trego told officers Hart enticed his seven-year-old daughter into a barn by offering her money. Trego learned about the act and gave Hart a severe beating, then filed charge. Police Chief William McCrady filed an assault and battery charge against Trego as a result of Hart's injuries.

Jackson, Perkins, Green, Lewis May Be Called

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—Congressional leaders predicted today that protracted wrangling over establishment of precise minimum wage and maximum hour standards may delay floor consideration of the President's labor program until July 1.

Representatives of business and industry, labor leaders and government officials are expected to swamp the house labor committee with demands to be heard fully at hearings on the measure which begin next week.

Rep. William P. Connery, Jr., D. Mass., house sponsor of the wage and hour legislation introduced in response to Mr. Roosevelt's special message yesterday, said he hoped house committee hearings on the measure could be limited to ten days, but other leaders believed a longer period would be necessary.

Details to be Drafted

The measures, introduced in the house by Connery and in the senate by Hugo Black, D. Ala., chairman of the senate labor committee, do not set up specific levels at which wages and hours shall be fixed. These will be worked out by the committees, and are expected to result in lengthy controversy.

Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, D. Tex., former chairman of the house interstate commerce committee, asserted that the proposal was so "far-reaching" that hearings might continue many weeks.

Capt. Matt Leach, of the Indiana state police, clamped down the road blockage system inaugurated during the two-year hunt for the late John Dillinger whom Brady and his followers have attempted to emulate.

Two Men Identified

The bank was held up by two men tentatively identified as Brady and James Doliver. They escaped in an automobile bearing the same license plates as a car which carried three men who took $1,400 from the Fairland state bank April 27.

Brady and Doliver escaped from the Greenfield jail last fall after beating the sheriff. They boasted that if they ever got out they would "make John Dillinger look like a piker." Witnesses said the bandit car headed toward the Illinois line immediately after the holdup, but apparently it backtracked from the border across which deputy sheriffs and state police had thrown a blockade.

Minneman attempted to halt the bandit car west of Logansport. A machine gun was thrust from the car, fired a blast in the policeman's abdomen and roared away.

Capt. Leach Positive

Sheriff Harry Hufty of Newton County and Capt. Leach said they were positive the robbery and shooting were committed by the Brady gangsters.

The same men are wanted in connection with the killing of Police Sergeant Harry Rivers of Indianapolis.

DIONNE BABIES MAY TALK OVER RADIO FRIDAY

CALLANDER, Ont., May 25 (UP)—When the Dionne quintuplets celebrate their third birthday on Friday, Dr. Allen Roy Dafee will try to induce them to say a few words on an international broadcast.

Dr. Dafee is not too hopeful about getting the girls to speak into the microphones. If they do, it will be in French. Aside from their own "quintalk," which they alone can understand, that is the only language they know so far. Later they will be taught English.

The Canadian Broadcasting Commission will handle the broadcast from the Dafee nursery. The program will be carried over a trans-Canada network and over the United States systems. Time of the broadcast has been tentatively set from 3:30 p. m. EST. It will be carried by shortwave to England.

BRITAIN MOVES MANY REFUGEES TO NEW HOMES

GIBRALTAR, May 25 — (UP)—A group of 450 Spanish loyalist refugees, ordered to leave overcrowded Gibraltar, left for Valencia, the loyalist wartime capital, today in the hospital ship Maine.

They are the first of some 2,000 ordered to leave the fortress. After sheltering thousands of the refugees since the beginning of the civil war the government decided three weeks ago that the visitors must leave.

Parents of the refugees from Spanish soil wept and many Britons bade farewell to today's refugees. Many women wept. But the refugees themselves shouted joyfully and gave the left front salute of raised fist.

The original order was that all Spaniards refugee in Gibraltar must leave, including 300 dock workers some of whom had seen from 25 to 30 years' experience—men who had worked here and gone home to Spain each night before the civil war. But at the last moment they were excluded from the departure order and kept their jobs.

The government notified the Spanish loyalist consul May 8 that all refugees must leave after the coronation of King George.

PUMPKIN SHOW DIRECTORS APPROVE DOG EXHIBIT, DRUM CORPS CONTEST

LEGION TO SEEK MANY TO ENTER BIG COMPETITION

$100 Fixed as Prize to First Place Winner; Location Uncertain

BIRD CLUB IS ACTIVE

Entrance Fee Suggested For Horse Show

Pumpkin Show directors approved two additions to the celebration Monday night. They are a dog show and an American Legion drum corps contest.

An appropriation of $175 for three prizes in the drum corps contest was voted to Proctor Baughman, director of parades, under whose supervision the contest will be staged. The three prizes will be $100 for first, $50 for second, and $25 for third. The contest is expected to bring at least 12 drum corps to Circleville from throughout central and southern Ohio. The contest will probably be held on Thursday. Where it will be staged is uncertain.

Eby to Direct

The dog show will be under the direction of Byron Eby, president of the Pickaway County Bird Dog club. Eby met with the directors to explain plans he had outlined for the show.

A $1 entrance fee will be charged for registered dogs or those eligible to register. Directors approved also an admission charge for the show.

There will be two major classes in the exhibit, one for sporting dogs and the other for miscellaneous types. One large trophy will be given for the best dog in the show. Other trophies will be awarded the best dogs of the two classes. Other prizes will be ribbons. All dogs entered in the show will be examined by a veterinarian before being granted an entry blank.

Fees obtained from the entrance charge will go to the dog club for purchasing pheasants and game. The admission fees will be paid to the society to meet expenses of the exhibit.

Building Sought

Eby said the club hoped to obtain a building for the show. Benches may be obtained from Columbus or from Lancaster, where dog shows are held yearly.

Elmer Wolf, director of the horse show, said a suggestion had been made by Proctor Baughman that trophies instead of cash awards be given in the horse show.

T. D. Krinn, director of amusements, favored an admission charge for the horse show. Mr. Wolf opposed a charge for the draft horse exhibit, but believed it would be satisfactory for the saddle horse show as considerable expense is involved. No action was taken on the admission charge for the horse show. A suggestion that yearling and weanling colts be added to the harness class was referred to Mr. Wolf.

Mrs. Orton King, chairman of the flower show, submitted her premium list to the society for consideration and explained four new classes had been added.

Confined to Countians

John Walters said the grain, fruit, vegetable and pumpkin displays will be confined to Pickaway county residents only. He said there were many outside exhibitors last year. He received complaints on premiums being paid to outsiders, he said.

Robert Colville, treasurer of the organization and advertising director, said arrangements would be worked out for the Little German band to attend the various celebrations throughout the county to advertise the festival. Bumper signs will not be purchased this year as they were too quickly damaged and removed from autos.

Ex-Sheriff Now 83

Ex-Sheriff of Pickaway county, H. M. (Roe) Dunning, known to many of our readers, is now, and has been for several years, a resident of Lancaster. Mr. Dunning on last January 24, celebrated in a quiet way, his eighty-third birthday. He is mentally well awake, keeping abreast of current events and occasionally comes to town to see his family. He is a true story about his father-in-law, Uncle Dave Brobst, who kept store at Marcy for years and years. Said Uncle Dave in one of the heated presidential campaigns years ago, had raised near his store an ash pole (Republican style) and of course topped it out with the usual national emblem, the American flag. "Somebody," whoever that might have been, shinned up the pole and replaced the flag with a nice piece of crape. This nearly broke Uncle Dave's heart because he was a Republican of the old school and couldn't take it. He always blamed Roe and his other son-in-law, Ab. Teegardin for playing this "dirty trick" on him. But to this day, Roe stoutly denies that he had anything to do with it. But of course there would be no harm at all in knowing who did it.

New Perambulator At Home Of Lindberghs

LONDON, May 25.—(UP)—A new perambulator arrived at the residence of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh at Weald, Kent, today, awaiting the arrival of the baby boy born to Mrs. Lindbergh last week.

It was reported at Weald that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh would return to their home, Long Barn, soon.

The Daily Express reported that Mrs. Lindbergh was at the London clinic, in the Devonshire place medical district here, with her seven pound boy.

Lindbergh was reported to have visited the clinic daily since the baby was born, sometimes with his son Jon, now nearly five years old. It was said that Lindbergh visited his wife late last night in her suite on the seventh floor of the clinic, where she is attended by Dr. Farley Holland and three nurses.

According to the Express, the baby was born just before noon last Thursday after Lindbergh drove his wife to the clinic coronation night from their home in Kent.

People at the clinic refuse information of the Lindbergh baby, saying they have orders not to talk. A policeman patrols outside and additional porters have been assigned to watch all doors.

The Express reported that Mrs. Lindbergh was introduced to nurses as "Mrs. Charles" and that

PICCARD'S HUGE BALLOON BLOWN UP IN EUROPE

Explosion, Fire Destroy Stratosphere Ship At Brussels

NO ONE IS INJURED

Test Flight Planned As Disaster Strikes

BRUSSELS, May 25.—(UP)—A stratosphere balloon in which Prof. August Piccard and Max Cosyns planned a test flight exploded and was destroyed by fire today as it was being inflated. No one was injured.

Piccard, stratosphere pioneer, and Cosyns, his fellow physicist-ballooning, intended to ascend to 22,960 feet this morning to study the warming and cooling properties of the balloon envelope and test its stability.

As it was being inflated, the balloon's car became entangled in the envelope while the heater inside continued to operate. The wind caught the envelope and started a fire. Had today's test been favorable, Piccard and Cosyns intended to make use of the results in constructing a balloon 197 feet in diameter, able to climb to 98,400 feet.

The balloon which burned was used in Piccard's 1932 stratosphere flight when he reached an altitude of 53,139 feet.

To New State Department Posts

TWO assistants to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Sumner Welles, an expert on Latin-American affairs, and R. Walton Moore, whom Hull brought to the department, are scheduled for step-ups in the state department. To give each a post of equal pay—$10,000—President Roosevelt has recreated the position of counselor of the state department. Moore will be named counselor, and Welles will be given the undersecretary post. Both officials aspired to the undersecretary post last summer when William Phillips was appointed ambassador to Rome.

Richer Harvest For Boys, Girls Of State Advised

COLUMBUS, May 25.—Cultivation of Ohio's most important crop, boys and girls, deserves a great deal more attention than has been given it, but laying down rules that will lead to a richer harvest is very difficult, according to Dean John F. Cunningham, Ohio State University, who says that uniform methods do not apply when each youngster has individual plans and talents.

However, those who are graduating from high school and who plan to attend some college can be given some assistance that may help them. The dean favors having the boy or girl attend a college or university where the courses of study are broad enough the first year or two so the student can get training which certainly will be of value no matter what occupation is followed afterwards.

Technical Course Advised

Technical courses which are pointed at specific occupations can be selected as the major portion of the work during the latter part of the college course. The student will have had a chance to find which courses are best suited to his habits of thought and study and can consult with members of the

teaching staff before making a decision.

The question of expense is also an important one to many prospective students and their parents. Dean Cunningham says the average expense a year at Ohio State has been $456 for men and $483 for women. This includes necessary expenses, but does not allow for other costs such as entertainment, which will vary according to the individual tastes and the money available for gratifying them.

The dean of the college of agriculture states that many students at Ohio State university earn money to pay part or all their expenses at the university, but he states that this is difficult for new students. Courses of study are outlined to require most of the available time of the freshman student and hours spent earning money frequently interfere with study needed to get the most benefit from the college course.

Pupils Should Save

Where possible, Dean Cunningham advises high school students who cannot pay their first year's college expenses to work and save the needed amount before entering college. This method is preferable to overtaxing physical and mental resources by trying to earn a living and go to college at the same time or by trying to reduce living expenses at college by going without the proper amount of food.

Students in the upper classes have a better chance to earn at least part of their expenses. They know better how much time they can spend at work and they can arrange their class schedules better than the first year students.

The dean concludes his remarks by advising that each high school pupil who intends to go to college arrange a conference with his high school superintendent and discuss the matter before a final decision

IF RAILROAD DOLLARS COULD BE MARKED—

YOU would find these dollars in your pocket, whether you are a manufacturer, a coal miner, a steel worker, a merchant, a farmer, a butcher, a baker, or a candle-stick maker.

Last year, the American railroads—the nation's No. 1 customer—spent more than a billion dollars for materials and supplies—70,000 different items—used in their everyday operation. More than a billion dollars distributed in the thousands of industrial and agricultural communities in every section of the land.

Consider a few items on this stupendous "shopping list": nearly one-fourth of all the bituminous coal produced in the United States, one-fifth of the entire timber cut, more than 18 per cent of the iron and steel output, one-fifth of the fuel oil, 790 tons of pins and paper clips, $14,000,000 for stationery and printing, to say nothing of nine million pounds of potatoes and two million dozen eggs, purchased from the farmer; more than 15 million pounds of choice meats, from the butcher; and 22½ million slices of bread and 30 million rolls, from the baker... the railroads are good customers even of the candle-stick maker.

But what do these railway purchases mean to you?

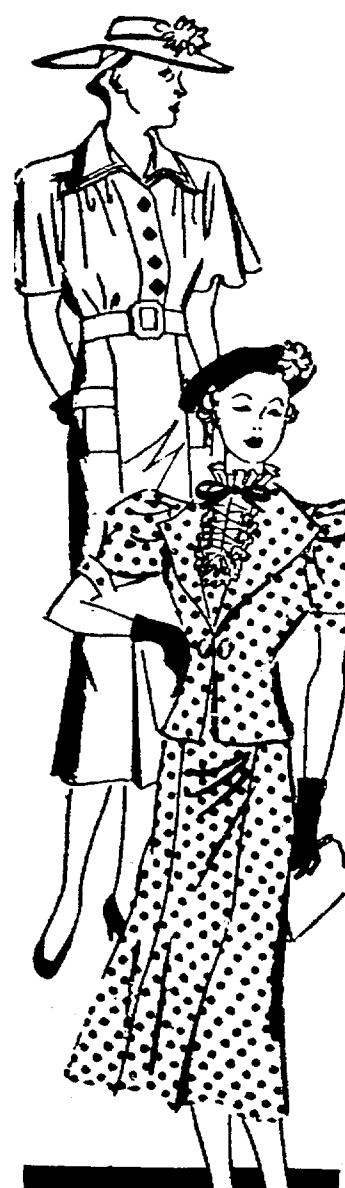

Railroad purchases pay 20 per cent of your wages, if you are a lumber worker; about 25 per cent, if you are a coal miner; 18 per cent, if you work in the steel industry, and a substantial part of the income of millions of other men and women engaged in thousands of other pursuits.

Coming closer home, your railroad—the Norfolk and Western—last year expended approximately $18,000,000 for materials and supplies in the hundreds of communities along its lines and in other parts of the country.

Railroad purchases are in direct proportion to railway revenues. And your patronage and support determine railway revenues.

Pattern 9285

It has a fresh, crisp look that you'll prize all summer—this jaunty of Marian Martin shirtwaists! Just picture how smart and practical 'twill prove for days when you want to "go sporting," speculating, out for an afternoon stroll, or want merely to lounge comfortably at home on your own front porch! Precious time won't be lost in making Pattern 9285 either, for it "goes together" in a jiffy, the pattern's that easy! See how cleverly the trim yoke merges into the striking panel-effect, while brief sleeves boast a jaunty slash. Wouldn't you like this saucy model made up in a crisp cotton? Linen and synthetic are good fabrics, too. Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9285 may be ordered only in misses and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric.

HALF A MILLION IN ORDERS PUT IN FOLEY'S SAFE

Two Promoters Foresee Million and Half Gate For 'Heavy' Battle

WHITE SOX PARK SCENE

Ring To Be Built Near Second Base

CHICAGO, May 25.—(UP)—Tickets for the Jim Braddock-Joe Louis heavyweight title fight, greatest box office natural since the second Dempsey-Tunney bout, went on sale today with $400,000 worth of orders in the safe before the first fight fan stepped up to the window.

When the line began to form, Promoters Joe Foley and Mike Jacobs counted $100,000 in actual cash and reservations totaling approximately one-third of a gate expected to exceed a million dollars.

"It can't miss a sellout," beamed Jacobs. "I've never seen anything like it."

Comiskey park, scene of the June 22 battle, has been scaled to seat 80,000 spectators who will pay $27.50, $16.50, $11.00 and $6.00 for reserved seats. If all space is sold, it may gross $1,400,000.

Jacobs, credited as the man behind the scenes that maneuvered the champion out of a scheduled bout with Schmeling, was jubilant over the selection of White Sox park as site of the fight. Soldier field was the original choice.

"Every seat-holder will see the match," Jacobs said. "We couldn't do better than that compact ball park. It's the perfect spot."

The ring will be built near second base. The first rows of ring-side seats will be ground-level, others on an elevation extending back to the box seats along first and third base lines.

Two British Skippers Feud Over Sea Incident

NEWPORT, R. I., May 25.—(UP)—A bitter feud between the British skippers of the racing yacht Endeavour I and her convoy Viva II was the only serious aftermath today of the separation of the boats in mid-Atlantic.

It was reported that the principals were very serious about the incident and that lots of water-front language was being used by both sides. A source close to British yachtsmen, here for the America's cup races, said that the Endeavour's captain charged that he had been deserted on the high seas when the Viva slipped a towline in a storm May 14. As a result the potential challenger was forced to make 1,100 miles of her Atlantic journey on her own.

The United Press informant said that Captain Ned Heard of the Endeavour was "most infuriated by it all." Officers of the Viva, including Captain Wallace Grint, insisted that the convoy did not proceed to Newport until after she had searched "40 hours" for the Endeavour.

Those aboard the Endeavour, it was said, felt that the night after the two boats separated, the Viva continued to Newport after acknowledging receipt of the sloop's radioed position instead of returning to pick up the Endeavour. That was the last heard of the racing yacht until she was sighted off Nantucket lightship Sunday.

TIGER GOLFERS LOSE 2 TO 10 TO GRAND VIEWERS

Grandview high school golfers won a 10 to 2 victory over the Red and Black, Monday, on the Pickaway Country club course.

Nunn, who was pitted against Bill Frice, tallied a par 36 on his first nine, but slipped to 49 on the last, permitting his foe to win a point.

Raymond Adkins won the other point from Circo.

Harold Imler lost three and so did Bob Denny and Junior Imler, each of whom played nine holes.

MOORE PITCHES WELL, BUT HOLDS LOSING MARGIN

CINCINNATI, May 25.—(UP)—Lloyd (Whitey) Moore, a 22-year-old right-hander who won 20 games while losing only five in the Cotton States league a year ago, today wondered what a hurler had to do to gain a National league triumph.

Moore hurled great ball here yesterday, but all he received for his effort was a 1 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The contest was the third that Moore has started. In his two previous appearances the young right-hander beat himself through wildness. Yesterday however his control was near perfect. He walked only one man and hit another with a pitched ball.

Brooklyn was able to garner only six hits off the Red rookie in the eight innings he worked but it hunched three of them in the second inning for the game's only run.

Buddy Hassett started the second with a single and went to third when John Winsett came through with a duplicate blow. Moore then bore down to fan Babe Phelps and Woody English, but Joe Stripp singled to send Hassett home.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler, erstwhile University of Georgia halfback, who won a starting berth on the Yankee pitching staff by hurling his second straight shutout, allowing only six hits as he beat the Indians, 14-0.

PURCELL'S HIT AIDS SOHIOANS

Home Run Clout Comes With Two Mates On Base Paths

Carl Purcell's home run in the first inning with two mates aboard gave the Sohio softball team a 6-3 margin over the Container Corporation in the Tri-County Recreation league.

Because Leonard Buskirk, strawboard ace, did not arrive in time to start the fray, Eddie Watson, center fielder, was in the box at the outset. Watson twirled good ball, but dished out one that was too good for Purcell.

Trimmer and Hutchinson hit for the circuit for the strawboard boys, but the C.C.A. outfit could not get runners on base to score in front of them.

Tonight puts the Athletic Club team on the field with the Cooper Oils, fast Commercial Point outfit. On the strawboard and Sohio teams last night were: C. C. of A., Watson, Trimmer, G. Brungs, Whaley, Hutchinson, Strawser, Holland, R. Brungs, Thomas, Butler, Buskirk, Sohio, Dumm, Roby, Faunaugh, Purcell, Carle, Leasure, Strawser, Wefler, Jenkins and Wilson.

About This And That In Many Sports

By BILL BRAUCHER
Loughran vs. Tendler

Tommy Loughran has gone into the cafe business in Philadelphia... one of his business rivals is Lew Tendler, who came within a whisker of winning the world's lightweight title from Benny Leonard... that makes 11,876 cauliflowerers now peddling liquid refreshment... Jack Dempsey is taking time off from his restaurant business to try to match Pedro Montez and Lou Ambers for the lightweight championship at Ebbets Field this summer... Mike Jacobs controls boxing at the Polo Grounds...

Bridges Slipping?

Some of the hitters in the American league are saying Tommy Bridges hasn't got it any more... they mean that fast one he used to call upon in a pinch... but he is winning a few games by the same method Wesley Ferrell has been following for two years... not giving the batters good ones to hit... During the free-for-all at St. Louis between the Giants and Cardinals, Carl Hubbell stood aside enjoying the fun... and taking care no one came up behind him to let a sucker punch... Lynn Nelson, pitcher Connie Mack picked up on his way through Memphis in spring, is a former boxer... Tommy Henrich, elevated to the position of left fielder for the Yanks this year, is a former steel mill clerk in Massillon, O. Gilbert Brack, who is starring for the Dodgers, formerly toiled in a bat factory in Louisville, Ky... Clyde Castleman, Giants' pitcher, is a former dairyman... Lyn Lary is a former stenographer, and can still make the keys fly...

New Mystery Man

This Mysterious Montague guy is coming to New York to play golf, according to Tommy Tailor, young socialite golfer and former Metropolitan amateur champion... Montague is the exclusive Hollywood gent who has been hailed as the greatest golfer ever to walk a green, an almost mythical person whose private feats on the fairways belie reality... Montague is slated to appear, the tip is, at exclusive Meadow Brook club, Westbury, Long Island, some time after the middle of June... Matches are being cooked up for the Los Angeles mystery man.

Mysterious Montague has become almost a legend... he bet he could drive a golf ball three-quarters of a mile in five shots and won easily... he bet Bing Crosby he could beat him using a shovel, ball bat and rake, and did it... He has been called a combination of Paul Bunyan, Popeye the Sailor, Brick Bradford, and Ivan Petrovsky Skova... He can score in the 60's whenever he wants to... he made a 61 at Palm Springs, Cal... he scored 66 to beat George Von Elm... he is built like a wrestler, is about 35 years old, is powerfully muscled, and has huge hands... Johnny Bulla, young Chicago professional, reports having played nine holes with the 220-pound giant of the links... Bulla says Montague hits his drives 280 and 290 yards... all straight... and he saw him hit a ball 240 yards with a No. 1 iron... with a No. 5 iron, Montague hit targets 175 yards away, making the ball fade 10 or 12 yards... he repeated the operation with hooked shots... and put beautiful backspin ranging from six to eight yards on long approaches with a No. 5 iron, shooting to a fast green... Montague is reported to derive a comfortable income from silver or gold mines in the west.

SOME OF the most beautiful plays in the game are made possible by an opponent's mistake, which need not, however, take credit away from the one who senses the opportunity and proceeds to cash in on it. The accepting of gifts can involve displays of just as much legerdemain as anything else connected with the game.

After North's opening bid of 1-Club, the North-South pair ended up in a contract of 7-No Trumps, which East doubled.

West led the heart 7, which was covered by East's Q and won with the Ace. The declarer now went after the club suit and both opponents were badly pinched, though West did not quite realize it. With five discards to make on the first 6 club tricks, he picked 2 hearts, which did no harm, and his 3 spades, which did. The alert declarer was looking for a chance to make a squeeze play for the trick which meant the difference between victory and defeat, and the spade discard was just what he hoped for.

As he led the last club, East held: spades, Q-10; hearts, K; diamonds, K-2. If he threw a diamond, the Ace would drop his K. If he tossed a spade, the K would drop his Q. He discarded his heart K. The spade K was led and the heart J played, squeezing East again. If he abandoned his last spade, both of South's would be set up, so he discarded the little diamond and the 3 diamonds in dummy became good. That play would have been impossible if West had not discarded his spades.

KIWANIS CLUB DIRECTORS VOTE TO LEAD BOY SCOUT FINANCIAL DRIVE

600 REQUIRED TO PAY SHARE OF AREA COSTS

Chairman To Be Appointed At Later Meeting; Other Counties Busy

COLUMBUS FUND HELPS

Explanation of Washington Jamboree Scheduled

Directors of the Kiwanis Club voted Monday evening to lead a campaign to raise $600 as Pickaway county's share of the budget of the Central Ohio Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. The directors met at the conclusion of Monday evening's club gathering in Hanley's tearoom.

A chairman has not yet been determined for the drive, which will be held within the next two weeks. Howard Kautz, of Lancaster, field executive for the council, attended the meeting and explained the program to the club directors. Dwight Steele, president of the Kiwanis Club, urged support for the campaign.

It is probable that a breakfast meeting will be held next week to which all solicitors will be invited. Details are to be worked out.

All Quotas Larger

Pickaway is the only county in the area that has not started its campaign. All others have shown much progress although each of the counties except one, Hocking, has a much larger amount to raise than does Pickaway.

Troop committees are ready in Ashville, Williamsport and Kingsport to start work as soon as the world is given.

Pickaway is one of eight counties in the area. Each year $25,000 is raised to finance the council expense, the Columbus Community Chest paying $20,000 of it. The remainder is divided among Hocking, Fairfield, Madison, Delaware, Union, Fayette, and Pickaway counties. Expenses of the district include salaries of eight professional leaders, maintenance of a camp, funds for various activities, offices and supplies.

Kiwanians enjoyed an illustrated lecture on "Clocks" by Dr. Charles Haynes, of Chillicothe.

Delegation of Kiwanians from Chillicothe and the Northwest Columbus club were present, the latter inviting the Circleville club to a meeting June 11 in Columbus.

Scout Jamboree To Be Explained

Parents of Boy Scouts interested in sending their sons to the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C. June 30 to July 9, will have an opportunity to learn details concerning the huge youth gathering at Memorial Hall, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. A representative from the Central Ohio Area Council, of which Pickaway is a part, will be present to provide information.

Registrations for the Jamboree are reported brisk. So far no Circleville scouts have registered, but applications have been turned in from Lancaster, London, Delaware, Columbus and other points.

Over 25,000 boys from all over the United States will camp for 10 days at the nation's capital. Scouts from 25 foreign countries will participate. The scouts will meet President Roosevelt and other national figures during the 10 days.

BOARD HIRES TEACHERS

The Muhlenberg township Board of Education re-employed all teachers Monday night with the exception of Frank H. Johnston. Those re-hired were Russell F. Stebleton, Lawrence A. Fullen, Elizabeth Huston, William H. McKinney, Ruth Roe, Mary E. Dempster and Bernelle Goodman.

to go to $774,800,000 in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. These taxes will retire government bonds and, provided the budget is balanced, reduce the national debt.

Many Laws Enacted

Forty-four states, the District of Columbia and Alaska have enacted unemployment insurance legislation in cooperation with the federal government. It is estimated that 2,700,000 employers pay Social Security taxes and that 27,800,000 persons have Social Security numbers preliminary to becoming eligible for old age benefits. Approximately 18,600,000 persons are participating in potential unemployment insurance.

Those decisions cleared the supreme court docket of New Deal cases. They were the 12th, 13th, and 14th successive pro-New Deal decisions at this term of court, a series of favorable judgments which began in January with the first case to be determined. That one involved validity of administration neutrality legislation.

One year ago this week the court struck down the New York minimum wage law. This week likewise is the anniversary of the 1935 opinion which destroyed NRA. In the 1935-36 court sessions the court ran 9 to 2 against the New Deal, only the gold act and phases of Tennessee Valley authority legislation escaping judicial extinction.

Some persons profess to discover in the record of court decisions the conflicting interplay of master strategists. They envision Mr. Roosevelt leading the forces which would capitalize political triumph by expanding the court, and Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, a strategist of the conference chamber, determined to prove the court adequately responsive to any emergency.

Others contend that the conflict of judicial and executive objectives has had more form than substance. It is argued that court decisions which wrecked New Deal Legislation often contained, also, carefully worded, if indirect, instructions from the bench how desired objectives could be obtained by re-shaping legislation to fit the constitutional pattern.

Hughes Joins Roberts
With his own vote and the recent support of Associate Justice Owen D. Roberts, Mr. Hughes has joined the three-so-called liberal justices in this session's extraordinary series of favorable New Deal decisions.

Associate Justices Louis D. Brandeis, Harlan F. Stone and

Benjamin Cardozo uniformly have supported the New Deal, their only desertions en masse taking place on those decisions in which the challenged legislation had not a single supporting vote:

1. Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act.
2. NRA.
3. Denial of president's right to remove members of independent commissions and agencies.
4. AAA processing taxes.

The court before which the fundamental issues of the Roosevelt administration have been argued will meet again for decisions June 1, but nothing of moment impends. Then the nine men will separate and at least one of them will not return. Justice Van Devanter's resignation gives Mr. Roosevelt the eagerly sought opportunity to name a younger and presumably more liberal person to the high bench.

The senate has massed behind the Democratic leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas. Robinson is 64 years old. Mr. Roosevelt's intentions are unknown, except that he will propose his candidate before this session of congress ends.

concluded rapidly," Rayburn said. "But as a committee chairman, I never was able to undertake anything so far-reaching in such quick time."

Connery said he believed plenty of testimony is available from both industry and labor on the old 30 hour work week bill.

"I cannot see any reason to drag out hearings when we have covered much of the same ground in past years," he said.

Few Witnesses Needed

Connery said that Robert H. Jackson, representing the department of justice, Secretary of Labor, Frances Perkins, a representative of big employers, A. F. of L. President William Green and CIO Leader John L. Lewis would be "all of the necessary witnesses."

Leaders admitted that the question of setting minimum wage and maximum hour standards probably would be the focal point of controversy.

Some members said privately that there was a "chance" that the legislation might get involved in such a tangle that, despite the president's request for early action, the program might be delayed until next session.

The wage and hour legislation was linked directly to the drive to balance the budget.

GEORGE VI CALLS DUKE ON PHONE; TALKS WEDDING

MONT, France, May 25.—(UP)—King George VI telephoned his elder brother, the Duke of Windsor, today and informed him regrettably that he is compelled to ban the attendance of British official guests at the wedding of the duke to Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

The duke, who gave up 'the throne for the American woman he loves, succeeding in hiding his anger at what was described by his friends as "the final blow of Edward's enemies."

Members of the household staff gave assurance that King George, forced into his position by governmental and other pressure in England, did his best to console his brother.

The day towards which the ex-king has looked forward to with so much happiness will be marred by the absence of some of the closest friends of his youth and manhood.

The music room where the ceremony will be performed, regarded hitherto as too small to accommodate the guests, will now be easily large enough for the 10 or 12 who will show up.

The duke has received calls from various persons originally invited to the wedding on June 3, explaining why they cannot come. He was disheartened but distracted his mind by playing golf and badminton.
